

Watchmen Group Presentation

Choose one of the following individual characters (or character groupings) and prepare a ten minute presentation. Characters are first come, first served; if another group grabs your favorite first, you must have a backup.

- [Daniel Dreiberg (modern Nite Owl)
- [Laurel Jane “Laurie” Juspezyk (modern Silk Spectre)
- [Adrian Veidt (Ozymandias)
- [Edward Morgan “Eddie” Blake (the Comedian)
- [Jonathan Osterman (Dr. Manhattan)
- [Hollis Mason and Sally Jupiter (original Nite Owl and Silk Spectre)
- [Dr. Malcolm Long and Gloria Long; the two Bernards (vendor and student); Detectives Steven Fine and Joe Bourquin; Hector Godfrey and Seymour

In preparing your presentation, address the following elements in relation to your character(s) and what thematic purpose is achieved.

- [How and why your character changes throughout the novel
- [Their morality, influences, hopes, fears, and attitudes towards life
- [Your character's social status, what he or she thinks of others, and what others think of your character
- [Who in today's world your character most resembles
- [Any other insights or aspects that you think are relevant or interesting.

While presentations should ideally consist of participation from each member, grades will be given as a group and to individuals (200 total points). In addition to the above requirements, your group will be judged on its ability to find and read to the class relevant quotes and specific details from Watchmen that support your analyses. You will also be graded on your individual ability to listen, pay attention to, engage with, and be present when other groups are presenting in class.
